Headline:

Breezy and mild with showers.

Today:

Cloudy skies and the odd patch of rain at first. Some hill fog too in the north. Brightening up during the morning, with a southwesterly breeze, strongest along coasts. Showers developing into the afternoon, becoming heavy and widespread. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:

Rain, occasionally heavy, lingers into the early evening, before clearing eastwards. Winds ease and clear spells develop for a while, before a band of blustery rain pushes in by dawn. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Wednesday:

A bright but blustery day once early morning rain has passed. Later, cloud will increase from the south bringing a few spots of rain. Mild, but risks of coastal gales. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:

Rain on Thursday morning clears to sunshine and showers and blustery winds. Coastal gales developing Friday with further rain arriving. Outbreaks of heavy rain at times Saturday.
